NEOLITH® - Sintered Stone

Neolith has created the most tech-advanced surface solution with its Sintered Stones- neither Porcelain nor Ceramic. TheSize developed a process replicating the stone creation process over millions of years in just a few hours with 100% natural & recycled materials. This ensures uniform production with guaranteed superior quality & better technical characteristics- a guarantee of 10 to 25 years warranty.

Aside from better durability while being lightweight and non-porous, sintered stones are also non-absorbent, non-flammable and resistant to stain, chemicals and heat. Along with all those top-notch characteristics, it comes in a myriad of design choices of marble, timber, iron, cement, fabric & is available in different finishes and thicknesses such as ultra-soft, polished, satin, silk.

Sintered Stone's versatility makes it suitable for both commercial & residential applications. Whether it's used for interior projects such as kitchen countertops, furniture laminates or backsplashes or in exterior applications like building and villa cladding or flooring. In addition to that, with the range of thickness availability, they can be placed over existing material without the need for demolition. And with its UV resistance, it won't show signs of sun damage or any fading of sorts when used for outdoor projects.
